Begun in 1982, the Legislative Fellows Program links the research capacity of the University of Delaware, Delaware State University, and Wesley College with the research needs of the Delaware General Assembly.

For students, who are selected through a competitive application and interview process, the experience offers a valuable opportunity to observe and contribute to governmental decision-making.

Through their nonpartisan, in-depth research, Fellows assist legislators in dealing with critical issues facing the state. In recent years, Fellows have conducted research on areas as diverse as criminal justice reform, healthcare, government accountability and transparency, and women’s rights.

Any full-time master’s degree student or especially qualified junior- or senior-level undergraduate student from the partnering universities is eligible to apply.

Program Highlights

- Fellows travel to Legislative Hall in Dover on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays by vanpool (funding contingent), leaving from Newark at 11:00 a.m. and returning to campus at 6:30 p.m. from January 2 to June 30, 2020.
- Fellows make important contacts with local government officials and business and community leaders, expanding their professional networks.
- Fellows take a three-credit seminar, State Government: Management and Policy, as part of the program.
- Fellows receive a competitive stipend/scholarship.
