

Alphabet Book for Young Citizens

by Fran O'Malley
The Democracy Project
Institute for Public Administration
University of Delaware

A K-3 Teacher's Resource for Teaching Civics Standard 3 in Delaware

www.ipa.udel.edu/democracy

Acknowledgments

Special thanks to Reneé Bartuccio of the University of Delaware's Institute for Public Administration for the time she took to proofread this lesson and to the following teachers for field testing it. Their recommendations improved the lesson significantly.

Jo Anne Deshon - Christina School District

Joyce Crumlish - Christina School District

Jeanine Moore - Indian River School District

Lisa Richardson - Indian River School District

Now that you've read these ABCs,

what kind of citizen will you be?

Dear readers,

If you study your letters, you will see that one aspect of citizenship is responsibility.

And if you pay close attention,
I am guessing you might discover that citizens have more than one right.

Privileges are special.
These you must earn.
They are given to good citizens.
This you will learn.

Let's start with letter A,
Then B and C
and end with letters X, then Y and Z.

Rights and privileges,
responsibilities.
If you exercise all three,
you will help keep us free.

Let's read The Alphabet Book for Young Citizens then see if you can figure out which of the letters help describe rights, which help describe privileges, and which help describe responsibilities.

Yearn for spring break.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Borrow books from the library.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Cooperate with others.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

eXtra computer time.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Watch TV.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Drive a car.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Eat lunch.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Vote in elections.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Use the electric pencil sharpener.

Finish my homework.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Go to recess.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Take care of myself.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Speak freely.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Help others.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Invite friends to your party.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Respect the property of others.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Question others.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Join a club or a team.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Kee p my workspace clean.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Practice my religion.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Obey the law.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Listen to those in positions of authority.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Make my opinions known to elected officials.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege

Name your class pet.

Right

Responsibility

Privilege